

Bean Blossom Flea Market

The Bean Blossom Flea Market is located on the grounds of the historical Bill Monroe Music Park & Campground in Bean Blossom, Indiana ~ the mecca of bluegrass music. The Bill Monroe Music Park & Campground is located on over 55 acres and is the home of the oldest, continuous running bluegrass festival in the world ~ Bill Monroe Memorial Bean Blossom Bluegrass Festival. It is located just five miles north of Nashville, IN on SR 135 in the heart of Brown County- a haven to tourists from all over the world. Also located on the grounds are the Bill Monroe Bluegrass Hall of Fame & Country Star Museum and the Bean Blossom Flea Market. In 2007, over 100,000 people visited the Bill Monroe Music Park & Campground, Bluegrass Hall of Fame & Country Star Museum and Bean Blossom Flea Market, with many attending more than one event.

There are eight events scheduled to take place in 2008:

42 nd Annual Bill Monroe Bean Blossom Bluegrass Festival	June 14-21, 2008
Rock Hill MusicFest (country music)	June 28, 2008
Bean Blossom Gospel Jubilee	July 31-August 2, 2008
Bean Blossom Blues, Brew & BBQ	September 4-6, 2008
FUNK Festival	September 12-14, 2008
Bean Blossom BikerFest	September 18-20, 2008
Bluegrass Hall of Fame & Uncle Pen Days Festival	September 24-27, 2008
Wagon Train Jam	October 2-4, 2008

In order to promote the Bean Blossom Flea Market to its fullest extent and garner the most traffic it is advertised in all bluegrass and gospel festival flyers and the www.beanblossom.com website. Paid advertising has been place in the following trade publications: Brown County Almanack & Our Brown County magazines; Brown County Convention & Visitor's Map Guide, Bluegrass Unlimited and Bluegrass Now magazines (through festival advertising). Monthly press releases are also sent to local newspapers and trade publications within a 100 mile radius.
